

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Chinese Test Service Network. The header includes the site name in Chinese (汉语考试服务网) and English (www.chinesetest.cn), along with a search bar and language selection options. The main content area is organized into several functional blocks: a 'Registration' section with buttons for various tests (HSK, HSKK, YCT, BCT, MCT); a 'Test Taker' section with input fields for Username, Password, and Code, and buttons for 'Login', 'New User', and 'Recover Password'; a 'Test Center' section; a 'Score' and 'Score Report' section with input fields for Ticket No, Name, and Code; and an 'Announcement' section with a list of recent notices. A red arrow points to the 'New User' button in the 'Test Taker' section.

1. Go to chinesetest.cn and create an account by clicking the blue button “New User”. In case you already have an existing account, log in with your credentials.
2. Fill out your personal information required. Please make sure to type in your active postal address accurately so that you will receive the registration invoice as well as the test score and certificate through mail.

HSK Level I

HSK (Level I) assesses test takers' abilities in the application of everyday Chinese. It is the counterpart of the Level I of the Chinese Language Proficiency Scales for Speakers of Other Languages and the A1 Level of the Common European Framework of Reference (CEF). Test takers who are able to pass the HSK (Level I) can understand and use very simple Chinese phrases, meet basic needs for communication and possess the ability to further their Chinese language studies.

The HSK (Level I) is intended for students who have studied Chinese for a semester (half an academic year), with 2-3 class hours in each week. These students have mastered 150 commonly used words and basic grammar patterns.
